Dr Ajay Chauhan

MBBS, FRACS (Plas)

Plastic Surgeon

Dr Ajay Chauhan is a fully qualified, Australian trained Specialist Plastic Surgeon dedicated to excellence in Reconstructive and Aesthetic Plastic Surgery.

Dr Chauhan completed his formal training in Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery in Brisbane, obtaining his FRACS in 2012. He went on to work as a Consultant Plastic Surgeon in Melbourne at the Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre and Monash Health. Post fellowship training in France, Germany, India and the USA has further enhanced his practice, and he continues to learn from world experts while sharing his expertise with younger plastic surgeons in training.

Ajay was initially drawn to the specialty because of the challenges involved – a high level of surgical skill, attention to detail and extensive knowledge of anatomy. The ability to restore a sense of self to his patients is what keeps him motivated. He is known to be a thoughtful problem solver who acts with compassion and care.

He is passionate about Reconstructive Plastic Surgery, especially following Cancer Treatment, and works extensively with other Specialists to help solve problems in many different fields.

In Aesthetic Plastic Surgery, Ajay will make a careful analysis of his patient's goals and guide them towards a sensible, reliable and appropriate option. He provides information so that his patients are well equipped to make the right decisions.

By travelling extensively and continuing to meet with the best surgeons in the world, he is able to offer his patients the latest Plastic Surgery techniques. He will adopt new treatment methods only when they are based on sound surgical principles and are proven to be effective.
